Forgeon Solutions, Inc. Acquires VTE, Inc. to Expand Global Product Offerings and Strengthen Customer Partnerships

[Pellston, MI] - VTE, Inc., a respected innovator and trusted name in the terminal insulator and electro-mechanical component industry, is excited to announce that as of July 16, 2025, its USA manufacture and sales operations has been acquired by Forgeon Solutions, Inc.

This strategic acquisition underscores Forgeon Solutions' commitment to expanding its product portfolio, enhancing customer service, and building on the strong legacy that VTE has established worldwide. "This marks an exciting milestone for both VTE and Forgeon Solutions" said Steve Chargo, Senior VP, Forgeon Solutions. "By bringing VTE under the Forgeon Solutions umbrella, we are not only preserving the strength of a premier brand, but also elevating our ability to deliver innovative solutions, improved service, and greater value to our customers across the globe."

Forgeon Solutions has confirmed that VTE will continue to operate under its established brand name, maintaining the trust and reputation it has earned with customers over many decades. Customers can expect expanded product offerings, streamlined operations, and ongoing dedication to high-quality products and service.

The acquisition also strengthens Forgeon Solutions' international footprint, partnering with VTE Australia and VTE Europe to remain a vital part of the company's global growth strategy. Forgeon Solutions looks forward to deepening these relationships to ensure long-term success. "Together, we will be better positioned to serve customers worldwide with enhanced efficiency and innovation," added Chargo. "Our shared commitment to excellence will fuel new opportunities for growth, collaboration, and customer satisfaction."
